Mr. Kevin K. Smith
P.O. Box 682
Vienna, Virginia 22180

Dear Mr. Smith:

It is always gratifying to receive requests from groups such as the National Classification Management Society (NCMS) asking us to provide speakers to address security related issues. I find it encouraging that you and other managers in both industry and government share our concern and are interested in security education programs.

Unfortunately, [redacted] will not be available to address the NCMS meeting on 11 January 1983. However, may I call your attention to the Federal Bureau of Investigation's excellent presentation known as the Development of Counterintelligence Awareness Program (DECA) which they present to both government industrial contractors and government employee groups. I highly recommend this program. You may wish to contact Mr. Edward J. O'Malley, Assistant Director, Intelligence Division, concerning the possibility of obtaining a speaker for the NCMS meeting in January.

I regret that we are unable to accept your invitation and [redacted] and I both wish to thank you for your comments regarding his presentation. Again, I recommend the FBI's DECA Program to you as a very appropriate alternative.

Sincerely,

[redacted]
Director of Security

Sir,

I have had the pleasure of attending the unclassified briefing "Soviet Espionage In Industry" which was presented by [redacted] pursuant to my security duties with a defense contractor. The material content and the manner in which it was presented was excellent.

As a member of the National Classification Management Society (NCMS), an organization of professionals from industry and government who work daily with science, technology, national security policy and operations, I would like to inquire if [redacted] would be available to present his program to NCMS on January 11, 1983 at the Ft.
